CONDITION OF THE SUGAR IN-DUSTRY IN GERMANY.

to the State Department Upon the Work ings and Effect of Germany's Sugar Exort Bounty Law, and Represents it as thing a Great Deal Finer in Theory Than in Practice-Other European Trade News-Report on England's Diminishing Coal Supply.

Washington, Dec. 14.-Unless relief Pan be had soon from the reichstag, the entire sugar industry of Germany is likely to be organized for self-protection into a gigantic syndicate for the purpose of regulating the production and controlling price. This is the view of United Consul Mason at Frankfort, set out in an elaborate report to the state department upon the present state of the sugar industry in Germany. Only last May a law was enacted to help the sugar growers and makers, as this is now the only remaining field of profit for the German farmer. The act was passed at the demand of the Agrarian party, yet already the sugar-makers are appealing to the reichstag "to rescue the sugar producing interests from the consequences of the very act passed for its salvation," and which have presented themselves promptly and in a most serious form.

Mr. Mason telis how the act has failed Sunday morning, when we were about and instead of limiting production has had the very opposite effect. The in-crease of the export body has also recrease of the export body has also duced the price of sugar in foreign markets and the German farmer receives no more than he did before the increase, more than he did before the increase. more than he did before the increase, while the government Joses heavily. Then, too, France and other Europeon nations have responded by an increase of their export duties which, in a large measure, neutralizes the benefits of the German increase and altogether the situation, so far as the sugar interests are concerned, is as bad as it could be.

That Mysterious Document is Declared

Rassier, of the probate court, It was filed for probate last March, revealing a romantic story in which figured the tombstone over a long-forgotten grave in the Rocky Mountains; some interest in family history, and the marvelous discovery of the will of Solomon P. Sublette, who died in St. Louis, October 1, 18557, almost forty years after it was made.

Dipply has Not Been Offered the War Portfolie.

The will reached a legal firm of Sedalia, Mo., by mail in 1895, unaccompanied by any other writing and with no clue to the identity of the sender. They con-sulted with the heirs of Sublette in St. Louis who were mentioned in the alleged will, and who had been at law for years with Sublette's helrs-at-law for posses-sion of the estate, which consists of real estate in St. Louis worth millions. Judge Rasiser declares the will presumptively fraudulent.

Tacoma, Wash., Dec. 14.—Governor-elect Rogers has issued a copyrighted pamphiet containing about 2,200 words and entitled "Free Land." A copy has been sent fo each of the members of the legislature, which meets next month. He takes the position that free land is an "inalienable, imprescriptable and indestructable" right of man, and draws lessons from the freedom and enjoyment of the Puyallup reservation Indians, which, he thinks, results from their free, inalienable and untaxable homesteads, His position is supported by quotations from Emerson, Ingersoil and Seneca. In conclusion he proposes an amendment to the state constitution providing that real estate and all usual improvements of a value not to exceed $2,500 occupied as a homestead by any private family, the head of which is a citizen of as a homestead by any private family, the head of which is a citizen of the United States and this state, shall be for ever exempted from all taxation of ev-
